Married at Bellaire.

Harry M. Wolf and Miss Clara Bick, of Wheeling, slipped down to Bellaire quietly on the last evening of the old year and were married by Rev. L. W.
Barr, pastor of the First Presbyterian church there.

Installation This Evening.

There will be a joint installation of the officers-elect for the year 1892 of Holliday Post, No. 12, and Holliday Corps, No. 1, at G. A. R. hall this evening at 7:30. The public is cordially invited. Mrs. Julia Burt, of Stephens Corps, No. 5, has been duly authorized as installing officer for Holliday Corps, No. 1. A short programme will be rendered.

Will Make Nails this Year.

The Bellaire nail factory has not made any nails for a long time, but it is the intention now to have the factory fixed up and operated this season.
Captain R. T. Devries, the general superintendent, has been looking around for nailers, as most of this class of workmen have either died, left or engaged in other business since this factory was operated last.

Operations to Commence.

The Steubenville Herald says: We will soon know what is in the West Virginia oil field across the river. The Fison-Freudenberger company has been completed. The derrick will be on the ground Monday morning and drilling will be begun immediately on the Stevens farm, which is about two and a half miles from this city. This company is composed of the strongest men in the city in financial and business circles.

Lutheran Church Matters.

Beginning tomorrow evening, at half-past seven o'clock, Rev. A. H. Bartholomew, of Cleveland, O., will begin holding English Lutheran services in Handan's hall, at the corner of Thirty-sixth and Jacob streets. Services will hereafter be conducted regularly every Sunday. Mr. Bartholomew is starting an English Lutheran mission.

Rev. P. Ziegelmeyer, of Zion's Church, is improving, but is not able to hold services next Sunday yet. Rev. Ran-man, of Bridgeport, will preach in Zion's Church to-morrow evening.

Sunday School Officers.

The following officers of the English Lutheran Sunday school have been chosen: General superintendent, Rev.
E. H. Dornblaser; superintendent, Mr.
William Higgins; assistant superintendent, Raymond Seabright; secretary, Mr. Francis Wilson; assistant secretary, Mr. Eugene Schele; treasurer, Mr. Grabe; librarian, Mr. Ed Jones; assistants, Mr.
Charles Murrin, Mr. Bowers; organist, Miss Minnie Vogel; superintendent of jewel department, Miss Mary Robinson; assistants, Mr. J. M. Vogel, Mr. H.
Thompson, Miss Annie Meyers; organist of jewel department, Miss Zelda Cook.

To-morrow Night's Rehearsal.

Following is the programme to be rendered at the Arion hall to-morrow night by the Opera House orchestra, on the occasion of the bi-weekly public rehearsal:

PART I.
1. March—"Wien bleibt Wien".....J. Schrammel 2. Overture—"Raymond".....A. Thomas
3. Waltz—"Vision".....L. Fahrbach

PART II.
4. Fantasia from "Martha".....F. Flotow 5. Paraphrase on "In, clena, clonion" "Grande".....G. Franke
6. Nymphophone Solo—"Gavotte".....A. Wolf

PART III.
7. Potpourri—"Nacht und Tag".....G. Anders 8. "Intermezzo" for string instruments and two Flutes.....H. Rehs
9. "Hänsel und Gretel" (Chorus of the Hussars)
.....F. Spindler
E. W. SPEER, Musical Director.

What's the Matter with the Opera?

To answer the question, What is the matter with "Poor Jonathan?" would puzzle the ablest critic. The opera failed to please 10 per cent of the two good audiences which witnessed its presentation at the Opera House yesterday, and yet the music is all right, the story fair as comic opera goes, and the company no worse than some that Wheeling has not only accepted, but enthusiastically over. Miss Selby is a handsome woman and sings well. Mr. Mc-Collin is known here as the head of a cheap company, and those who remembered former performances in which he participated regarded him as a "Beebe Vining" was not at all with him to give some "set up and get" to what, it must be admitted, was a rather tame performance. The West Point drill was arright, and the absence of tight was commendable, but there cannot be a valid objection, on moral or other grounds, to having the cadets' pantaloons fit them.

A YOUNG LIFE CUT SHORT.

Death at Cleveland of a Former Wheeling Young Lady—Funeral Here To-day.

Miss Amelia Chandler, a daughter of Mr. Moses Chandler, formerly of this city, died at Cleveland on Thursday, after a brief illness. The remains will be brought here for interment, arriving on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road about three o'clock. The interment will take place at Greenwood immediately upon the arrival of the train. In speaking of her death the Cleveland Leader has the following appreciative notice:

Miss Amelia Chandler died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary C. Chandler, No.
2021 Euclid avenue, after an illness of eleven days. Her sickness began with what appeared to be a case of the prevailing influenza, and became critical about four days ago, when it became evident that the lungs and other organs were becoming steadily more and more affected. Death resulted at last from sheer physical exhaustion. To those who knew Miss Chandler in life, the sad news of her death will bring genuine grief and it will be a long time before they can realize that her young life, so full of energy and kindness, and the promise of a noble and useful career, has been so suddenly cut off. Perhaps it was at the art school of this city that Miss Chandler was best known, outside of her own family. She had spent three happy and successful years at the school, and her strong, artistic nature, her unusual talent and her boundless enthusiasm won the regard and appreciation of both teachers and pupils. But the friends of Miss Chandler will mourn most keenly for the loss of a true and sympathetic nature. She was a young lady who made no pretenses, yet was always doing good to others. She was singularly direct and frank in her speech and manner, and was unflinching and thoughtful of the feelings of others. Wherever sincerity and generosity abounded, wherever kindness and sympathy for others was the rule of life, Amelia Chandler found a home.

ABOUT THE WEATHER.

A Review for the Last Month and a Summary for the Year 1891.

Mr. C. Schnepf, the Opera House corner druggist, furnishes the following interesting information about the weather in 1891. It is the result of careful observation and will be worth while to preserve: to make comparisons in the future.

In December twelve days were fair, five clear, four cloudy, and it rained on eight days and snowed on two, certainly a rare record for December. The coldest day was the 18th, when the mercury got down to 19 degrees, and on the 24th it got up to 64. The average monthly temperature was 40.6 degrees. The rainfall was 3.51 inches. No wonder people suffered from the grip.

The following is a review of the weather for the year in such form as to be understood at a glance:

Work the Rattans.

Wheeling is to have rattan works and if the reports of immorality in that place are true, we know of no city that needs rattan more than Wheeling does and they ought to be laid on thick and
